

STC Australia Chapter
(Inc.)

Society for Technical Communication Australia Chapter

Technical Communication Competition 2011

Society for Technical Communication

ABN: 42 066 818 965

What is the STC competition?

The STC competition recognises individuals and groups for excellence in technical communication. The competition is a great way to get feedback on your work from an expert judging panel of your technical communication peers.

STC competitions are held regionally and internationally. STC Australia is hosting competitions in three categories:

- Technical publications
- Technical art
- Online communication

Entries of an appropriate standard are entered in the STC International Competition, and Australian entries have won awards in this competition in past years.

Each entrant receives a comprehensive critique from each of the three judges on the category panel.

To take advantage of the benefits of this competition, start preparing now!

Awards

Four levels of achievement are recognised:

- Best of Show—may be awarded to one entry in each competition category
- Distinguished
- Excellence
- Merit

Winners of the Distinguished and Best of Show awards qualify to enter the STC International competition.

Competition dates

- Entries received from now until Friday 2 December 2011
- Judging 5 December until 18 December 2011
- Submission of entries to the STC International Competition in December 2011

To ensure that entry and judging requirements for the international competition are met, due dates for submission will be adhered to.

Entry fees

Early bird (by 18 November):	$75.00 per entry (Member or related society)
STC and ASTC members or related society:	$80.00 per entry
Non-members:	$95.00 per entry

For more information and/or entry forms, please contact the competition manager:

Marcia Bascombe competitions@stc-us.org.au