

STC PUBLICATIONS COMPETITION 2006

WHAT IS THE STC COMPETITION?

The STC competition recognises individuals and groups for excellence in technical communication based on entries in 3 categories. The competition is a great way to get feedback on your work from an expert judging panel of technical communication peers.

STC competitions are held regionally and internationally.

STC Australia is hosting competitions in 3 categories:

- Technical publications
- Technical art
- Online communication

Entries of an appropriate standard are entered in the STC International Competition, and Australian entries have won awards in this competition in past years.

Each entrant receives a comprehensive judgement, and justification for the award level, from each of the 3 judges on the category panel.

Awards

- Best of Show awarded to one entry in each competition category
- Distinguished Technical Communication (DTC)
- Excellence
- Merit

Winners of the Distinguished and Best of Show award qualify for the international STC competition.

In order to take advantage of the benefits of this competition, please prepare now to submit an entry.

To ensure that entry and judging requirements for the international competition are met, due dates for submission and payment will be adhered to rigidly this year.

COMPETITION DATES

Entries received from August 7 to October 31

Judging October 20 to November 24

Submission of Entries to the STC International Competition by December 1

Entries received after October 31 will not be judged.

ENTRY COST

STC and ASTC members	$60.00
Non-members early-bird fee if paid for before September 29	$60.00
Non-members entries paid for after September 29	$70.00

Early Bird entries must be paid for in full or subject to a Purchase Order for the Early-bird fee to be valid. You cannot 'book' an early-bird entry.

For more information and/or entry forms please contact the Competition Coordinator, Jill Nicholson, phone: 02 94174302, email: competitions@stc-aus.org.au